The main objective of this project is to obtain and characterize mutants of Shigella sonnei blocked in the synthesis of endotoxin. The mutants will be obtained by mutagenesis with N-methyl-N'-nitro-N-nitrosoguanidine. The mutants will be characterized by their growth in culture medium, their reactivity with specific monoclonal antibodies, their ability to kill mice, the presence or absence of endotoxin in their culture filtrates and their susceptibility to lysosomal enzymes. An important objective of the project is to discover new antibiotics, and mutants blocked in endotoxin production are an excellent source of such mutants.
