What's New in the Auto Shutdown Pro II?

Auto Shutdown Pro II is a powerful software for scheduling shutdown, log off, log on, restart, hibernate or stand by a computer. The software allows you to easily turn off computer or control other power options using detailed tasks and a built-in digital assistant. It also includes FTP server configuration center, Auto ZIP and AutoFTP file compression utilities. This powerful software allows you to schedule power off or other computer functions using a detailed task. Thus, you can prevent data loss, and protect computer health and privacy. It works fine except for one thing... Submitted by cjsmith on August 20, 2011 - 6:13pm Product is working fine but the problem is that each time i open the application to schedule a task, i have to wait for the "schedule" window to open. This window takes long time to open and the problem is that the other task to be scheduled is already opened and the application can't continue without clicking on cancel. Works like a charm and takes care of my every need

Submitted by jonathanb on May 13, 2011 - 11:58am I'm a company that uses computers for their business. I've got a network of computers that all need to shutdown at night. I wanted something that would shut down the computer at a certain time (even if a program was open) and not wait for the user to log off and back in. I found a way to do this by using the shutdown function but it didn't shut down the programs running or shut off the computer. I also found an AutoShutdown Pro utility that worked better and had more options than the shutdown option. I've been using this utility for a few weeks now and it does everything I need. It shuts down the computer with one click. It also shuts down programs and shuts off the computer. The only thing that it doesn't do is shutdown programs that open files while the computer is shutting down. But I can live with that. I'm very happy with this software and highly recommend it. I really like this software, but I wish it would be able to distinguish between the programs that I want to shut down and the programs that I want to save (instead of terminating all of them) Submitted by AndyJ on February 20, 2011 - 4:40pm I really like this software, but I wish it would be able to distinguish between the programs that I want to shut down and the programs that I want to save (instead of terminating all of them) I bought this program on accident and I'm very glad I did. I thought the program would be to shutdown at set time, but I found it would shutdown at any time. I installed this program, and it was a complete waste of time. I thought the program would allow me to shut the computer down when it's not in use. But it doesn't. I uninstalled
