Skype ChatBot (Auto Talker) is a lightweight software application whose purpose is to help you automatically send custom responses to your interlocutors on Skype while you are away from the computer. The benefits of portability The portable running mode prevents entries from infiltrating into your Windows registry. No leftover files are left behind if you delete the items that you have grabbed from the Internet. What's more, you can copy the utility on any USB flash drive or other devices and run it on the target computer without administrative privileges. Clean looks You are welcomed by a simple layout that reveals a set of predefined rules. The application makes use of chat rules in order to answer to your friends on Skype when you are not present. It keeps track of all your chat rules, along with information about the name, received expression, reply, and delay (in seconds). In addition, you may specify a user-defined welcome message, delete the selected rule, activate a rule or disable it, as well as adjust the precision algorithm used for responding to your interlocutors. Set up custom rules and back up data

Skype ChatBot (Auto Talker) gives you the freedom to create user-defined chat rules. You may enter a custom name, received expression and response. Furthermore, the application lets you add a user-defined response delay (in seconds). Last but not least, you can export the current set of rules to a file (BKP file format) so you can easily restore data in case something goes wrong.

Bottom line All things considered, Skype ChatBot (Auto Talker) provides a straightforward solution for helping you automatically send responses on Skype, and is suitable for all types of users, regardless of their experience level.
