Many of the things we need to make our life as smooth as possible, we'll find in nature. As long as we know what we need to find we can find the solutions. Sometimes we make things into mysteries only to have someone solve them for us. Someone who can see that our time here is short and that we have to learn to live every day with happiness, joy, peace and love. This is a series of images I created in gratitude to the flowers that help us move life gently and slowly. I hope you will enjoy them. Full motion video (sorry, my website doesn't support it yet).
