The only tip I can give you is that the rock-tying method in there can be annoying at times, if you get tired of using it every time you take a wall in a random gym, but it is extremely easy. Most people are just stuck in there, forcing the reflec-tle to come. It's not frustrating or anything, it's just the best bet. Also, unlike B/W, the refelct is better in Prima. It catches the pokemon before it even gets close to you, and you can usually force it to head right into your wall. It never gets out of the wall. Easy and quick. It's a bit costly compared to the manual capture method, but if you use the GTS, you can buy a LOT of stickers and they're well worth the amount of coins you payed to get them. I can't wait until they release Platinum, it's my favorite generation next to my 1st generation. If they were to come out with a Platinum guide, I would buy it because I just like how it's setup.
