If money is not being spent on already identified priorities in your city, then the extra funding can also be used to fund projects and activities that support a range of additional priorities in your city. This includes developing new social housing or providing more affordable housing, protecting the environment or enhancing vital services such as safe and accessible public transport. You can then decide whether any of this extra funding is to be invested in existing assets, infrastructure, sustainable development or any other priority. Are there any restrictions? If you decide to fund a priority not already identified in your city, you'll need to show the local Growth Board how that new priority and its budget fits into your overall plan, and that it gives you the chance to deliver on your strategy. If you have not already identified a priority for this extra funding, you'll need to provide the Growth Board with evidence that this priority is achievable, in conjunction with evidence that you'll be able to deliver the budget and show that the priority fits in with your overall plan. Good governance and transparency can help you to manage any risks and maximise your chances of securing funding. Ensure your priorities are shared with your local community, that you meet with stakeholders and that the priorities you consider are aligned with the priorities of your local Growth Board. If you have a strong research base, you can still get the Growth Board to consider funding additional objectives not already identified for your city. networking website. Using one table to store user profiles, another one to store user friendlist, another to store friendlist of the user and another to store user profile. I want to fetch data of all profile users and it should fetch all the data from each of the three table, username, name and user_id. This is my query, but its giving syntax error. $solaris = mysqli_query($con,"SELECT username, name,user_id, friend_id FROM Users, User_FriendList, User_FriendList_User WHERE User_FriendList.user_id=Users.user_id AND User_FriendList_User.user_id=Users.user_id"); Can anyone please tell me whats wrong with my query? A: You can use JOIN for getting multiple values from same table. Joins link two or more tables together. This allows you to query for data that is in two tables at once. Join can be used to get two table data from same database. This is the correct form of query: SELECT u.username, u.name, u.user_id, f.friend_id FROM Users u INNER JOIN User_FriendList f ON u.user_id = f.user_
